

TWITCH

- Do be cautious when interacting with people in Twitch Chat. People aren't always who they say they are online.
- Do remember there are privacy concerns when using your name and birthdate when registering for free services, such as apps and social media.
- Do change your password periodically and turn on Two-Factor Authentication to help keep your account secure.
- Don't do anything you wouldn't want the world to see while streaming. Anyone could be watching and could create a clip of the events that transpired.
- Don't establish connections with people you don't know or trust. Understand that people are not always who they say they are online.

Your Account

At the top right of Twitch, you can click on your "Notifications" and "Messages," highlighted in red to the left respectively. You can also click on your profile picture to access a dropdown menu. On Android and iPhone, your Profile picture will be separated to the top left, as depicted in the photos below. Here you can access your "Settings" tab.

Twitch is a video-streaming platform that offers a fun, social way to watch people play games. Through the Twitch app (and online at Twitch.tv), gamers who broadcast their matches (known as streamers) play their favorite titles while providing running commentary on the action.

Channel Privileges

If you keep scrolling down in “Moderation,” you will reach the “Channel Privileges” section. Here you can change your settings as needed. It is recommended that you enable “Email and Phone Verification” for all chatters in your stream. Underneath you can make your own personal rules with “Chat Rules.” When someone enters your chat for the first time, they will see whatever you type here. You can also see what “Chatters” have been banned in your channel.

The screenshot displays the Twitch Creator Dashboard. On the left, the 'Moderation' option is highlighted in the sidebar. The main content area shows the 'Channel Privileges' settings. Under 'Chat Verification', the 'Your Overall Safety Rating' is shown as a green bar. The 'EMAIL VERIFICATION' section has 'All chatters must have a verified email' selected. The 'PHONE VERIFICATION' section has 'All chatters must have a verified phone number' selected. Below these, there are checkboxes for 'Verification Exemptions' (Subscribers, VIPs, Moderators) and a 'Set All to Twitch minimum recommendation' button. The 'Chat Rules (private)' section shows a list of rules: '- Be excellent to each other.' and '- Have fun!'. The 'Unban Requests (private)' section is also visible, showing a toggle for 'Unban Requests' and a 'Cooldown Period' of 15 minutes.

The screenshot shows the 'Moderation' section of the Twitch Channel Settings. It includes three main settings: 'Followers-only mode' (set to Off), 'Moderator tools in chat (private)' (set to On), and 'Banned Chatters (private)' (with a link to view and modify the banned users list). The 'Followers-only mode' section explains that when enabled, viewers must follow the creator for a specified amount of time before they are allowed to post messages. The 'Moderator tools in chat' section explains that it allows moderators to view chat and ban history for users in the channel, and view and add comments on users. The 'Banned Chatters' section provides a link to view and modify the banned users list.

It is important to make sure your settings on Twitch are set to the level of security that makes you comfortable. Viewers in your chat are able to do as much as you allow them to, so ensuring your settings are matching what you expect is necessary.
